

Things to See and Do in Golden: June 2008

www.onlinegolden.com

*There's always something good happening in Golden.
Don't miss any of it!*

Downtown Events

Wild West Auto Roundup

Washington Avenue will be closed to traffic and lined with beautiful antique autos. June 14

Farmers Market

Next to the Golden Library, at 10th & Illinois Streets. Every Saturday in June, 8 am – 1 pm.

Theater

Miners Alley Playhouse: Matt & Ben

When the screenplay for Good Will Hunting drops mysteriously from the heavens, the boys realize they're being tested by a Higher Power. This irreverent look at Hollywood's elite will leave you gasping for air as you laugh the night away! June 13 – July 20

Heritage Square Music Hall: Retro Loud

You fans asked for it.....We can't repeat all of the "loud" numbers we've done over the years; however, we will bring back our favorite numbers from each of the "Loud" shows!

Music

Flying A's

Acousticalley presents this singing, guitar-playing duo. Their range of styles includes something for everyone, from country rock to soulful ballads. June 19
Held at Miners Alley Playhouse.

Summer Solstice Music Festival

Bring a blanket or lawn chairs and enjoy music, hamburgers, and Golden City Brewery beer. June 21 at the Clear Creek History Park.

Exhibits

Golden Pioneer Museum: Golden in the 1920s

Through October 31st.

Rocky Mountain Quilt Museum:

Sisters in Cloth - A Collection of Works by African American Textile Artists

(Eugenia Mitchell Gallery)

American Quilt Study Group 2006 Quilt Study: Pre-1840 Bed Coverings

(Opal Frey Gallery)

Through August 2nd.

Foothills Art Center: Artists in Residence - Anderson Ranch

Works by 20 artists from the Anderson Ranch Artist Residency Program.

Through July 6th.

American Mountaineering Museum: Mountain Gifts

Artifacts, lithographs, historic maps, and engravings from the collection of the Museum and American Alpine Club Library.

Views of the Himalaya (Photo exhibit).

Through August 30th.

More: For classes, lectures, and city meetings, check the calendar on www.onlinegolden.com!